A VIRTUAL WORKSHOP

TAPPING THE POWER OF PERSONALIZED LEARNING

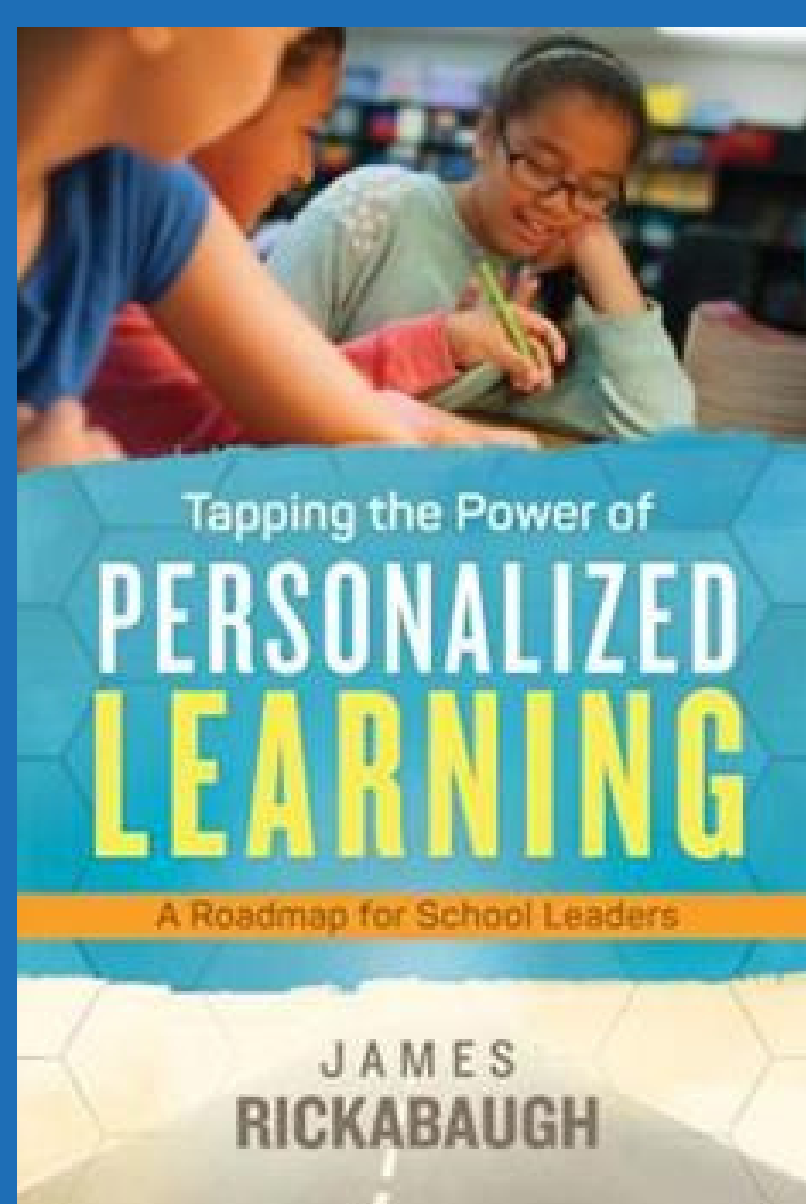

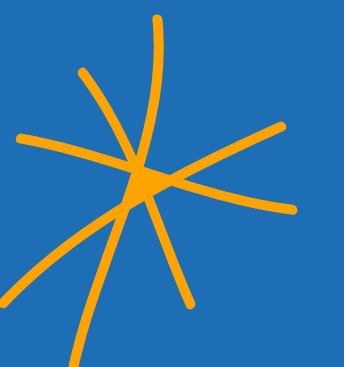

Featuring: ASCD Author James Rickabaugh

Join other educators on September 27th (9:00 AM– 3:00 PM), virtually, to hear James Rickabaugh, author of “Tapping the Power of Personalized Learning: A Roadmap for School Leaders”. Registration includes a digital copy of his book. The workshop will provide participants step by step guidance for implementation as well as:

- a detailed overview of the research and work behind the model development;
- a complete introduction to the heart of the model—a comprehensive, multi-layer framework centered on the three core components of learner profiles, customized learning paths, and proficiency-based progress;
- tools and activities for assessing and adjusting the model to meet the specific needs of the students and staff;
- strategies for increasing and reinforcing enthusiasm for the change process among everyone involved, from the classroom to the greater community; and
- an abundance of real-life examples and reflections from students, teachers, principals, and superintendents whose schools have nourished in record time and with minimal additional funding or resources.

James Rickabaugh is the director of the Institute for Personalized Learning, an education innovation lab dedicated to transforming public education. The institute serves a growing number of member school districts engaged in personalized learning and is a part of the multistate Innovation Lab Network coordinated by the Council of Chief State School Officers.
